4. Why does WTW collect my Personal Information?

WTW collects personal information mainly to provide its services (e.g. to arrange insurance, to handle insurance claims, or to provide risk management advice), but WTW also collects personal information for a variety of other related business purposes.

4.1 WTW collects and uses Your personal information primarily for the following purposes:

4.1.3 to provide services which You did not personally request but were requested by WTW's client and requires WTW to interact, directly or indirectly, with You (e.g. where You bring a claim against WTW's client and WTW is required to handle the claim under the relevant (re)insurance policy).

4.3 For the purpose of improving or developing WTW's products and services (see Section 4.2.4 above), WTW may use Your personal information to create and analyse statistical data, and the outcome of such analysis might be shared with third parties. However, such analysis will be conducted solely on an aggregated and anonymous basis and under no circumstance will any specific personal information relating to You or any information from which You could be identified be included in such analysis.

4.4 Your personal information will be used for relationship maintenance/marketing purpose (see Section 4.2.5 above) only if You are Yourself a client of WTW or if You are the business contact at WTW's client (i.e. You fall within the category of persons described in Section 5.2.1 or 5.2.2 below). For further information regarding WTW's direct marketing practice, please refer to Section 7 below.

4.5 Please note that WTW will never use Your personal information for any purpose not described above without Your prior consent (or the prior consent of the relevant client of WTW, where applicable).

5. How does WTW obtain my Personal Information?

Personal information handled by WTW is typically provided by a client of WTW. However, depending on the circumstances, WTW might collect personal information from other third parties who are relevant to the services WTW provides, and WTW might also collect personal information directly from You.

5.1 Where WTW is required to handle Your personal information, WTW generally obtains Your personal information indirectly from a client of WTW (typically a company, partnership, public authority, or other like body corporate) which receives services that affect You. For example, WTW might indirectly receive Your personal information from a client of WTW where the client asks WTW to:

5.1.1 arrange any (re)insurance that benefits the client's directors, officers, employees, customers, guests, visitors, or other persons that interact with the client;

5.1.2 arrange pensions, medical insurance, and other employee benefits for directors, officers, and employees of the client;

5.1.3 handle claims made against the client under any (re)insurance policy;

5.1.4 advise the client on the management of its business risks and (re)insurance arrangements; or

5.1.5 manage any aspect of the client's business affairs on behalf of the client (e.g. in connection with the set-up and operation of a captive insurance programme);

5.2 Occasionally, it will be necessary for WTW to obtain Your personal information directly from You. For example, this could be the case where:

5.2.1 You are employed or otherwise engaged by a client of WTW and Your job involves any direct interaction with WTW (e.g. if You are a Risk Manager or a Finance Director of a client of WTW, and You are involved in making (re) insurance purchase decisions);

5.2.2 You directly interact with WTW as a client of WTW in respect of Your personal/domestic insurance requirements (e.g. insurance for Your personal motor vehicle or Your family home, etc.), or in respect of Your own business, profession, or trade (e.g. where You act as a sole trader, sole practitioner, or business proprietor and receive WTW's services in connection with Your business needs);

5.2.3 You are an individual to be insured by a client of WTW or a beneficiary of any insurance, pension, or similar benefit a client of WTW arranges for Your benefit and WTW is required to collect Your personal information directly from You in order to make the necessary arrangements for WTW's client;

5.2.4 You bring any insurance claim against a client of WTW and where WTW is involved in the direct handling of such claim (or the corresponding reinsurance claim); or

5.2.5 WTW needs to talk to You or correspond with You in order to provide risk management consultancy or other like advisory services to WTW's clients.

5.3 Depending on the circumstances, WTW may also obtain Your personal information from other sources such as:

5.3.1 publicly accessible registers and databases (such as registers of companies/directors, bankruptcy, and court judgments), credit reference agencies, providers of identity verification services, providers of insurance claims validation services, operators of insurance fraud and other business risk screening databases, and other like providers of due diligence services; and

5.3.2 underwriters, actuaries, insurers, reinsurers, other brokers, claims handlers, surveyors, loss adjustors/assessors, accident investigators, specialist risks advisors, pension providers, banks and other lenders (including premium finance providers), health professionals, lawyers, accountants, auditors, consultants, and other like third party professional advisors and service providers, as well as third parties that have referred You to WTW and other like third parties who interact with WTW in connection with the services WTW provides.

6. Do I have to give my Personal Information to WTW or allow WTW to handle my Personal Information?

You do not have to provide personal information requested by WTW, and You do not have to allow WTW to handle Your personal information. However, such refusal can potentially disadvantage You and additionally, WTW might handle Your personal information regardless of Your wishes where the law allows WTW to do so.

6.1 It is not mandatory for You to provide any personal information WTW asks You to provide or for You to consent to WTW handling Your personal information in any particular way. You can also at any time revoke any consent You give in respect of the processing of Your personal information by WTW if You change Your mind.

6.2 However, if You:

6.2.1 refuse to provide Your personal information which WTW requests;

6.2.2 do not consent to WTW handling Your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy; or 6.2.3 revoke any consent regarding the handling of Your personal information by WTW which You have previously given.

then such refusal or revocation of previously given consent might prevent WTW from performing its services, and this might in turn, depending on Your circumstances, adversely affect You (e.g. through delays in placement of (re)insurance or assessment/payment of (re)insurance claims).

6.3 Please note that due to the nature of services WTW provides and the relevant legal and regulatory requirements that govern them, WTW is unlikely to be able to deal with You if You refuse to properly identify Yourself or if You insist on using pseudonym in dealing with WTW.

6.4 If You consent to the collection and processing of Your personal information by WTW but later revoke Your consent, WTW will endeavour to comply with Your request but there may be circumstances where WTW will not be able to comply with Your request (e.g. if You revoke Your consent to the disclosure of Your personal information to third parties, WTW will not be able to 'undo' a disclosure that has already taken place).

6.5 Additionally, where there is a relevant legal exemption that applies to the way in which WTW collects and processes Your personal information, WTW reserves the right to rely on such legal exemption to collect and process Your personal information regardless of Your wishes but only if and to the extent it is necessary to do so for one or more of the purposes described in Section 4 above (e.g. where WTW is required by law to validate Your identity for fraud prevention purpose or compelled by law to disclose Your personal information to regulators or law enforcement agencies, or where WTW would otherwise be prevented from providing the services as requested by WTW's client).

7. Does WTW use my Personal Information for Marketing?

WTW does not engage in direct marketing that targets consumers in general. However, depending on Your relationship with WTW, You might receive marketing communications from WTW. Where this is the case, WTW will always respect Your marketing preference.

7.1 WTW does not engage in direct marketing activities that target consumers in general, but if You are Yourself a past or current client of WTW (or a prospective client referred to WTW by a third party), or if You are a WTW's business contact at a past, current, or prospective client of WTW, You might from time to time receive marketing communications from WTW, e.g. information regarding a new product or service offered by WTW, or invitation to a seminar or conference hosted by WTW which might be of interest to You (see Section 4.4 above).

7.2 Where WTW sends any such marketing communication to You, WTW will ensure that such marketing communications are sent in compliance with the applicable laws, and in particular, ensure that there is an easy way for You to stop receiving (i.e. "opt-out" from) such marketing communications in the future.

7.3 WTW will also comply with any applicable law that specifically regulates the use of Your personal information for direct marketing purposes, including any applicable rules concerning the use of a 'Do-Not-Call' registry or similar facility.

7.4 WTW will never sell, rent, or otherwise share Your personal information with operators of marketing databases, or any other non-affiliated third party solely for such third party's own marketing purposes without Your prior consent (or the prior consent of the relevant client of WTW, where applicable). For further clarification regarding how WTW shares Your personal information with third parties, please see Section 8 below.

8. Does WTW share my Personal Information with third parties?

WTW shares personal information with third parties mainly to provide its services (e.g. to arrange insurance, to handle insurance claims, or to provide risk management advice), but WTW also shares personal information for a variety of other related business purposes.

8.1 WTW will share Your personal information with third parties only if and to the extent it is necessary and appropriate for one or more of the purposes set out in Section 4 above. Specifically, WTW may share Your personal information with the following types of third parties:

8.1.1 underwriters, actuaries, insurers, reinsurers, other brokers, claims handlers, surveyors, loss adjustors/assessors, accident investigators, specialist risks advisors, pension providers, banks and other lenders (including premium finance providers), health professionals, lawyers, accountants, auditors, consultants, and other like third party professional advisors and service providers, as well as third parties that have referred You to WTW (to the extent their involvement is inherent in or necessary in connection with any of the services provided by WTW);

8.1.2 clients of WTW who receive services which is arranged for Your benefit, or otherwise requires WTW to interact, directly or indirectly, with You (to the extent sharing of Your personal information with such clients is necessary and appropriate in the context of the relevant services WTW provides, see Section 4.1.2 and Section 4.1.3 above – such a client may, depending on the circumstances, be Your employer);

8.1.3 affiliates of the WTW Group and non-affiliated third party services providers (e.g. IT services providers, administrative support service providers, etc.) that provide services that directly or indirectly support WTW's business operation and the services provided by WTW;

8.1.4 credit reference agencies, providers of identity verification services, providers of insurance claims validation services, operators of insurance fraud and other business risk screening databases, and other like providers of due diligence services (to the extent necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements imposed on WTW or a client of WTW); and

8.1.5 regulators, police, courts/tribunals, and other like public authorities who have jurisdiction over WTW (to the extent necessary to comply with any legal or regulatory requirements imposed on WTW or a client of WTW).

8.2 Please note that where WTW shares Your personal information with regulators, police, courts/tribunals, and other like public authorities, WTW may, depending on the circumstances, be forbidden from advising You (or the relevant client of WTW) of the fact that Your personal information was disclosed to or requested by such third parties.

8.3 WTW may also share Your personal information in connection with the planning, due diligence and implementation of commercial transactions, including a reorganization, merger, sale of all or a portion of our assets, a joint venture, assignment, transfer, or other disposition of all or any portion of our business, assets, or stock (including in connection with any bankruptcy or similar proceedings) – in such cases, Your personal information will be transferred to the acquiring entity.

8.4 In all other cases, WTW will not share Your personal information with other third parties without Your prior consent (or the prior consent of the relevant client of WTW, where applicable) unless WTW has a legal ground on which to do so (e.g. where any applicable law requires WTW to do so, or where WTW is compelled to do so by a court order).

9. Does WTW transfer my Personal Information overseas?

Due to the international nature of WTW's business operation and the (re)insurance market in which WTW operates, Your personal information may be shared with third parties that are located in countries that do not have laws that protect personal information in the same way laws of Australia or New Zealand do.

9.1 Due to the global nature of WTW's business operation, and the complex and international nature of the many specialist lines of (re)insurance WTW handles, WTW may need to transfer Your personal information across international borders to destinations where the law governing the protection of Your personal information may not be equivalent to the law that applies in Your country.

9.2 Your personal information may be transferred across international borders by WTW to affiliates of the WTW Group and non-affiliated third parties described in Section 8.1 above, who could be located anywhere in the world. As a minimum, such third party recipients based overseas will include other WTW Group companies that are based in the UK, USA, Philippines and India (who provide IT systems support and administrative/operational support to WTW).

9.3 Please note that where WTW shares Your personal information with other WTW Group companies or any other third party located overseas, Your personal information will be shared only to the extent it is necessary to allow such overseas recipients to perform their relevant task. Some overseas recipients might receive all of Your personal information (e.g. WTW Group companies that supports WTW's IT systems) whilst some overseas recipients will only receive limited amount of Your personal information (e.g. those who assist WTW in performing ID verification etc. will typically only receive basic personal information such as name and date of birth).

9.4 Whenever WTW transfers Your personal information across international borders, WTW will take all appropriate steps that are within WTW's control to take so as to ensure that such transfer complies with the applicable legal requirements.

10. How will my Personal Information be kept by WTW?

WTW will keep most of Your personal information in electronic form (typically on IT systems maintained by other WTW Group companies), although some of Your personal information could be kept in paper form. WTW will keep Your personal information for as long as there is a need for WTW to keep Your personal information for one or more of the purposes Your personal information was originally collected. Your personal information will be handled by WTW securely at all times.

10.1 Most of the personal information WTW collects will be entered into and held by the relevant parts of the IT systems used by WTW (such as client relationship management system, email system, broking system, or accounting system). Such IT systems are typically operated and supported by affiliates of WTW that are located in the UK, USA, Philippines and India, but certain specialist IT systems are maintained by third party service providers.

10.2 Some personal information WTW collects will be kept in paper form (e.g. where Your personal information is included in forms, letters, or files and notes kept by WTW's brokers and advisors, etc.). However, depending on the circumstances, WTW might destroy the paper copies after they have been scanned into WTW's IT systems. Personal information held in paper form will ordinarily be kept on WTW's premises until it is moved to document archives operated third party service providers.

10.3 Whether it exists in electronic form or paper form, Your personal information will be retained by WTW for as long as they are required for one or more of the purposes specified in Section 4. Please note that for legal and regulatory reasons, WTW will often need to retain Your personal information even after WTW stops performing the relevant services which requires WTW to handle Your personal information.

10.4 In particular, please note that due to the way in which (re)insurance works, WTW may need to retain Your personal information for long periods. For example, if WTW arranges an insurance which provides cover for incidents that take place during the term of the policy as opposed to cover for claims that are made during the term of the policy, then WTW may need to keep the relevant records (including personal information) for many years even after the policy is terminated, because a valid claim can potentially be made many years after such a policy has expired.

10.5 Please be assured that WTW treats information security very seriously. Regardless of how Your personal information is kept, the privacy and confidentiality of Your personal information under WTW's control will be protected in accordance with the strict standards set by WTW Group's Information Security Policy which applies to all members of the WTW Group and is enforced by a dedicated team of experienced security experts.

10.6 Encryption, anti-malware, firewalls, back-up/disaster recovery systems, restriction of access to premises/IT systems, careful selection of personnel as well as relevant third party service providers, and other technical and organizational measures as appropriate will be used to prevent and detect unauthorized or accidental access, loss, disclosure, or other like incident that might affect Your personal information, regardless of whether Your personal data is held physically or electronically.

10.7 In the unlikely and unfortunate event Your personal information under WTW's control becomes compromised due to any information security breach (e.g. unauthorised access, loss, or disclosure/alteration, including where this is caused by contractors),

WTW will act promptly to identify the cause of such information security breach, and remediate and mitigate the consequences of such information security breach. Where appropriate, WTW will also notify You (and/or the relevant client of WTW, where applicable) in accordance with any applicable law which requires WTW to notify You about such incidents.

11. Does WTW monitor my interaction with WTW in any way?

To ensure the secure handling of Your personal information and to comply with the relevant legal and regulatory requirements, WTW records and monitors access to its facilities and premises, and in some cases, communications between You and WTW's brokers and advisors as well.

11.1 If You telephone WTW in Australia, Your telephone conversation with WTW's brokers and advisors may be recorded for training, quality monitoring, and regulatory compliance purposes. Where this is the case, You will be given a separate notice about such recording when You telephone WTW.

11.2 If You personally visit any of WTW's office in Australia, Your access to and use of WTW's premises and facilities may, depending on the location of the WTW office, be subject to monitoring via CCTV systems for safety and security reasons.

11.3 WTW also has the capability to monitor the use of its facilities and IT systems by its staff and visitors in general (including access to restricted areas within Willis Towers Watson's premises, use of WiFi facility WTW makes generally available to clients, etc.). WTW may make use of such additional monitoring capability to monitor Your access to WTW's premises, facilities, and IT systems (or Your correspondence with WTW's staff) where this is considered necessary in order to protect the reputation, assets, and confidential/proprietary information, as well as safety/well-being of WTW's clients, workforce, and other stakeholders. Such monitoring forms part of the information security measures deployed by WTW (as described in Section 10 above).

11.4 If You visit any website which is maintained by members of the WTW Group, Your access to and use of such website may be tracked through 'cookies' and other similar technologies. As explained above, the collection of any personal information about You in such cases will be, unless stated otherwise, subject to the separate website privacy notice (see Section 1.3.2 above).

12. Will this Privacy Policy change in the future?

12.1 This Privacy Policy was last updated on the date as stated above. This Privacy Policy may be amended from time to time to reflect changes in law or changes in WTW's business operation, but where such revision becomes necessary in the future, WTW will notify You to the extent it is practicable for WTW to do so.

12.2 If You are a client directly serviced by WTW, You will be notified directly about changes to this Privacy Policy but if You are a customer or employee of a corporate client serviced by WTW (or a claimant bringing claims against such a client of WTW), it may not be practicable for WTW to notify You directly of changes to this Privacy Policy, although WTW will notify its corporate clients about any changes to this Privacy Policy.

12.3 As a minimum, changes to this Privacy Policy will be publicised on:

12.3.1 WTW's website for Australia at <https://www.wtwco.com/en-au>; and

12.3.2 WTW's website for New Zealand at <https://www.wtwco.com/en-NZ>

in both cases through a link to 'Privacy Policy' that appears at the bottom frame of the landing page.

13. Who can I contact about my Personal Information?

If You wish to exercise Your legal right to access/correct Your personal information, or if You have any query or complaint regarding the handling of Your personal information by WTW, please contact WTW in the first place.

13.1 Under Australia's Privacy Act 1988 or New Zealand's Privacy Act 2020, You have the legal right to access Your personal information held by WTW and to ask WTW to correct or delete Your personal information (e.g. where it is inaccurate or out-of-date).
